Will Not Renew Park Lease.

W. E. Labelle, who has had the lease of the refreshment concessions at Wildwood park for the past twelve years, has decided not to renew the privilege this season.

At least one fox and a number of rabbits were seen to rush out of the woods after the Attawaugan section of the town Wednesday. A number of partridges and quail were also observed scolding for safety.

Forest Fire Extinguished.

While there was still danger and some fire in the burned area of Killingly Thursday, the big forest conflagration had been practically extinguished. What the loss will be has not been accurately estimated yet.

Obituary.

George Horace Parkhurst, 75, died at Danville, Mass., Thursday. He formerly lived in Danielson and was a resident of this section for a long time. Want Main Street Oiled.

There continues to be a demand for the oiling of Main street. There has been some talk of circulating a petition intended to direct attention to the subject and to get action upon it.

George S. Brown said Thursday that he would be willing to put in some time on the proposition. It is believed that the cost of oiling Main street would not be considerably greater than the cost of sprinkling the street with water. It is likely that three applications of oil would be sufficient for a whole season, one extending far into the fall.

Fishing Club Advocated.

Charles E. Morin wants to secure fingerling for Stocking Brook.

Charles E. Morin of Furnace street proposes the organization of a fishing club in Danielson. The club is to be the object of securing thousands of fingerling bass, trout and other fish from the state hatcheries, for liberation in the brooks and lakes in this vicinity.

Mr. Morin has talked the matter over with a number of who enjoy a day's outing with rod and line and has found sentiment very favorable to the plan. The idea is to get an organization that can do this section in the way of stocking the good fishing waters what has been done in other sections of the county.

The fishermen hereabouts are asleep as to the opportunities they have, working with the fish and game officials, for securing thousands upon thousands of fish for local streams.

after when it is about to respond to alarms. This rule has been made necessary that the firemen may be unhampered and to protect non-members from the risk of accidents, for in case of injury they would very probably promptly claim damages from the city. This rule is to be rigidly enforced.

Wrestling Bout This Evening.

Followers of the sport are looking forward with interest to wrestling bouts that are to be held here this evening. Mike Bell, 140 pounds, of this city, is to meet Charles Oman, 150 pounds of Norwich.

This match is to be for the best two out of three falls. Another match is arranged between Jim Brokus, 150 pounds, of Worcester, and Young Kelley, 150 pounds, of Woonsocket. This match also is to be for the best two out of three falls. Henry Guertin is to be referee at the matches.

A SUMMER IN JAIL.

Prospect for Daniel Mack—Once Escaped From Brooklyn.

Daniel Mack, who has been employed with one of the local workingmen on the construction of the Grand Trunk railway extension, was sentenced to serve 30 days for having been intoxicated and 30 days for doing injury to private property, upon his presentation before Judge M. H. Geisler in district court Thursday morning. His costs amounted to about $18, so he will be in jail about all summer.

Mack admitted in here to buy some goods. He oiled up during his stay and then got boisterous because he wouldn't go to drink at a place at Smith's place on South Main street. Going outside he hurled a stone through one of the store's windows. He made a run for it, but was captured in the railroad yards.

Mack is a character of special interest to the local police. Last winter he appeared here and made an application to be returned to Brooklyn jail, from which he had been released upon his promise to be good for 12 months. He was released only a few weeks ago. At the time he made application to be returned to jail, he gave his reason as wanting to get papers showing that he had served in the United States army during the Spanish-American war.

SCHOOL PUPILS HELP.

Furnish Valuable Aid to Firemen in Conquering Woodland Flames.

A forest fire that broke out just before 11 o'clock Thursday morning at a point on Perrin hill not far from the Dry-Kinney road, was held near enough to that institution to endanger it, swept over several hundred acres of land during the day and caused much damage. Only prompt action by members of the fire department, who responded with the auto chemical, saved the Albert. Light buildings from damage and at one time at another place on the fire line swept up within 20 feet of buildings of William Kilborn. Here the ground had been wet down with water from a nearby pond and other precautions taken to protect the buildings, which were aided by a favorable change in wind just at the opportune moment.

Boy Scouts and other high school boys were released from their studies to take up the fight against the fire, which spread with startling rapidity, running in a surprisingly short time over all the east side of Perrin hill and then up to and over the ridge heading for the Woodstock line. The school boys, and other high school boys, with great ardor and efficiency and contributed much toward keeping the fire away from points that it was desired to protect in a particular manner.

The firemen were hard worked for several hours, but the students stayed with them, and helped in their jobs. The school girls, including members of the eighth grade, did particularly valiant work in keeping down the fire, for they had been excused from school as suffragettes to take up the battle and were anxious to live up to the traditions of the women who would vote.

Several times during the fight against the fire the appearances were that it was under control, but it would burst out again and raged with renewed fury. The firemen returned about four o'clock, but the credit to the good old Plymouth Rocks.

Rosella Baker has 33 Banded Plymouth Rocks, 26 hatched June 16th, 1914 and 12 hatched July 8, 1913, which began laying on the 14th day of 14 days old. Their egg record for the past three months follows:

January, 1915 648 eggs
February, 1915 761 eggs
March, 1915 965 eggs

Total 2,374 eggs

Comparing this with an article in The Norwich Bulletin, 23rd March, 1915, ago, about R. L. Kenyon, who has 82 single comb White Leghorns which began laying when 4 months, 21 days old, their egg record for the past three months is:

January 1,420 eggs
February 1,375 eggs
March 1,617 eggs

Total 4,412 eggs

Had the Leghorns (which are a little more than double the number of Plymouth Rocks) laid double the number of eggs their total would be 4,738 or a difference of 324 eggs for the three months.

D. A. R. to Visit Real Daughter.

There will be a pilgrimage of the Elizabeth Porter Putnam Chapter, D. A. R., Friday, April 23, to visit Mrs. Sarah Bosworth Bradley, on her ninety-seventh birthday. Mrs. Bradley is a real daughter of the American Revolution, her father, Allen Bosworth, serving in the war from Eastford.

Returning, the party will visit the Wolf Den property to inspect the planting of 10,000 conifers, supervised by the state forester.

It is of special interest to the members of the local chapter that at the recent election in Washington, D. C., of the national congress of the D. A. R., Miss Natalie Lincoln of Litchfield was elected editor of the D. A. R. magazine.

Turkish Courtesy.

The courtesy title most frequently used in Turkey is Effendi. It means Master and is applied even more prodigally than our own Esquire. Pasha and Bey, Christians and Moslems alike, women are Effendi. Family names being almost unknown, those of the men are generally sacred or historical, to which is usually added an appropriate nickname, often a grand but complimentary, such as Bandy, Rogue, etc. In this way you get such combinations as Kuchuk ("Little") Ali Effendi.—London Chronicle.

Torrington—Thomas G. Thompson, son of Mrs. Mary Thompson, of Prospect street, who secured a fellowship in the University of Washington in Seattle last year, has been notified by the Iron and Steel Institute of London, England, that he has been awarded the Carnegie Internal Research scholarship, amounting to 100 pounds sterling for his thesis on Prevention of the Corrosion of Iron and Steel by Fossilizing Factors.
